Critical Tieup of Nation's Railroads Appears Easing

BACK-TO-JOB MOVEMENT IS ON INCREASE

By The Associated Press

The critical and costly tie-up of the nation's railroad transportation appeared easing today as more striking switchmen joined in the back-to-work movements which started yesterday.

However, there was not a full-scale return across the country marking the end of the "sick call" walkout which started on Jan. 30. Indications were that the crippling week-long stoppage was nearing an end in most parts of the country.

Several bright spots appeared on the troubled rail front following the first major break yesterday when thousands of switchmen returned to work.

Service was normal on major lines in the New York and New England areas. It was near normal in many other cities. And many carriers expressed hope for normal service soon as the back-to-work movement spread from city to city.

But there were some dark spots, too, in the overall picture.

There were a couple of new, although small, walkouts. And not many trains were moving in some of the key rail centers—namely Chicago, St. Louis, Cleveland and the Twin Cities.

The delay in a full return to work delayed the recall of thousands of workers in rail-related industries. More than 250,000 had been made idle in the last week because of the rail work stoppage.

Despite the apparent growing back-to-work moves, the defense Transport Administration (DTA) in Washington ordered trucks to give top priority to movement of vital government shipments and to help break the log jam of undelivered mail.

The back-to-work movement appeared not developing in some parts of the west. But there were signs of the walkout ending on the Union Pacific Line in San Francisco, Los Angeles and other far west cities.

The National Mediation Board met with rail union leaders in Washington yesterday and obtained written demands from the four brotherhoods involved in the negotiations with the carriers in the long-standing wage-hours dispute.

As the strike eased in the east, the Pennsylvania Railroad lifted its embargo at New York, Trenton, N. J., Philadelphia and Buffalo. It remained at Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati and Toledo. The (Turn to Page Eight)

Allied Ground Forces Smash Forward With Powerful Tank Units on Plains Near Seoul

Tokyo, Feb. 7—(P)—Allied ground forces smashed forward today with three powerful tank columns to the last hills guarding the plains of shattered Seoul.

American doughboys with flashing bayonets drove Reds from vital heights at one point.

The Chinese and Korean Reds were digging in for a new stand on the ridges just south of Seoul. At their backs was the Han river, still an ice-covered way of retreat for the Reds but now on the verge of thawing.

On the central front, United Nations forces with South Koreans in the lead pushed northward toward the old parallel 38 border.

On the east coast, South Korean forces secured high ground three miles east and west and five miles south of Kangnung, a coastal road town 17 miles south of 38. Allied naval power blasted the Reds in Kangnung itself.

The whole complexion of the war had shifted once again. The Allies had regained the initiative in their 14-day-old "limited" offensive and the Reds were giving ground.

Allied artillery was in position to pour shells into the old Korean capital of Seoul, abandoned Jan. 4 for the second time in the Korean war by anti-Communist forces.

Three tank task forces probed the southern approaches to Seoul again Wednesday for the third straight day, shooting up Red rear-guard wherever they chose to make a stand.

An American infantry company stormed a hill three miles west of Anyang with cold steel when small arms fire and grenades failed to drive off 100 well-dug-in Reds.

The Chinese, building their new defense line just south of the Han, were rushing reinforcements across the frozen river on plank bridging. All the steel bridges spanned the river.

Department of Defense casualty lists from Korea, released today, include the name of Cpl. Herbert L. Price, husband of Patricia Ann Price, 64 Holley avenue, Bradford, killed in action. He had previously been reported killed in action.

ning the river that runs through Seoul's southern outskirts were down.

The British cruiser Belfast and the American heavy cruiser St. Paul and the destroyer Hank poured shells at Reds in the Inchon-Seoul sector.

Late field reports put the nearest Allied approach to Seoul at less than six miles.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force sowed major roads with roofing nails that punctured truck tires and left the bogged-down Communist trucks to the mercy of strafing planes.

A. P. Correspondent Tom Stone reported the 3,776,000 nails dropped resulted in an Air Force bag of 84 enemy trucks the first day and night of "Operation Tack."

Washington, Feb. 7—(P)—Secretary of State Acheson today accused the iron curtain countries—Russia's satellites—of building up very great armies in excess of peace treaty limitations. He said this is one of the major causes of world tension.

Acheson told a news conference it is the weight of these armies, plus the enormous military power of the Soviet Union itself, which is the prime source of tension and worry in the world today.

Washington, Feb. 7—(P)—Congressional economy advocates worked today for a slowdown on new taxes in an effort to force substantial cuts in President Truman's $71,600,000,000 budget.

Meanwhile, it was disclosed that the senate and house tax writing committees are making a joint study of whether to handle the budget-balancing $16,500,000,000 in new revenue which President Truman wants in two bills, as he recommended, or in one package.

Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the house ways and means committee said he had discussed the matter with Senator George (D-Ga.), chairman of the senate finance committee. No decision has been reached and none is probable for some time, Doughton told reporters.

He said he has not made up his own mind and has not discussed with his committee how new tax legislation should be handled.

Senator Byrd (D-Va) told a reporter he hopes congress will have a chance to vote on nearly all of the regular government money bills for the year beginning July 1 before it makes any final decisions on raising taxes.

Touch And Go Battle On Confirmation Of Fine Cabinet Moves to a Showdown

Harrisburg, Feb. 7—A touch-and-go battle between Gov. John S. Fine and senate democrats on confirmation of cabinet appointments moved today toward a showdown.

The governor disclosed he will seek a senate vote on the appointments next Tuesday. It would be the first major break in a deadlock that has throttled Fine's cabinet nominations for three weeks.

Fine told a news conference last night that Tuesday's vote was intended as neither "a test or a challenge" to the democrats whose 20 votes in the senate are enough to bar confirmation.

He left open the question of whether he thinks four Democratic votes would join those of 30 Republican senators in assuring the necessary two-thirds majority to approve his nominations.

And the governor indicated renewed determination to keep the name of Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti off the nomination lists. As far as Fine is concerned, he believes that Margiotti need not be confirmed until the closing days of the session.

Fine held his news conference shortly after he conferred with a delegation of five Democratic senators headed by Minority Whip John J. Haluska.

Haluska termed the conference a stalemate, particularly since Fine did not tell the minority senators at the time of his plan to seek a senate vote on the nominations next Tuesday.

Haluska said — and Margiotti confirmed — that the attorney general plans to resign about April 1 — possibly as early as March 1 — if he is able to clean up some work by that time.

Democrats are opposing Margiotti partly because the attorney general, appointed last year by former Gov. James H. Duff, took over the investigation of "free work" charges in Democratic-controlled Pittsburgh.

Meanwhile, the house received a senate-passed bill providing for an estimated $37,000 salary increase for employees of the general assembly.

QUICKIES By Ken Reynolds

Las Vegas, Nev., Feb. 7—(P)—A handful of birds apparently are the only casualties of five atomic explosions set off on the new government range near here.

Twenty-four hours after the fifth and latest blast—which the atomic energy commission says was the last in its current series of tests—there was no report of injury to humans or livestock.

The report of the dead birds came from Fred Bartley, a uranium prospector. He telephoned the Los Angeles Times yesterday from Indian Springs, a community some 30 miles from the site of the explosion, that he had found "a few dead birds, some of them robins," after the blast.

He said they "appeared to have been killed probably by blast injury rather than by radioactive poisons. These birds presumably were able to fly here from a point much closer to the explosion than we were."

Bartley said the top of his car and a large piece of petrified wood, tested by his geiger counter, became radioactively "hot" after the cloud formed by the blast passed over Indian Springs. This radioactivity would be unlikely to harm humans, however, he said.

Las Vegas was glad to hear that explosion No. 5 would be the last, at least for a while. Yesterday morning's blast rocked the town and broke two show windows. Residents agreed it was the biggest of the series which began Jan. 27.

Federal And State Inquiries Are Ordered In Accident To New Jersey Commuter Train

Woodbridge, N. J., Feb. 7—(P)—A crowded commuter train plunged off a newly-erected trestle last night, killing 82 persons and injuring about 500. It was the nation's worst train wreck in 32 years.

Throughout the night and far into today, rescue workers hacked through the twisted mass of wreckage. They said other bodies still may be found in the crumpled coaches and debris.

The 11-car Pennsylvania Railroad train, "The Broker," swerved wildly and jumped the tracks as it sped onto the midtown overpass. The cars, jack-knifing crazily, hurtled down a 20-foot embankment.

The new, temporary overpass had been put in service only a few hours before the crash.

The dead included bankers, lawyers and businessmen, prominent in their localities and civic life, most of them home-bound from New York City offices.

In mid-morning, the list of known dead stood at 77 with four bodies still unidentified.

The rush-hour crackup was the worst in the nation since 1918 when 115 were killed in a Nashville, Tenn., wreck, and more disastrous than a 1943 accident outside Philadelphia that took 80 lives.

It was the third major train wreck in the metropolitan area in less than a year. A total of nearly 200 died in the three crackups.

In Washington, the Interstate Commerce Commission ordered an inquiry into the new disaster, with a public hearing to open tomorrow.

On orders of New Jersey Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll, the state's attorney general, Theodore Parsons, also began an investigation. He reached the scene early today, and sent an assistant to a hospital to question the critically injured engineer of the wrecked train.

It was loaded to the aisles with homebound commuters — mostly from New York—on their way to Red Bank, Long Branch, Asbury Park and other communities on New Jersey's wealthy north shore.

Engineer Joseph H. Fitzsimmons, said from a hospital cot: "The moment my engine passed over the trestle and lurched sharply I felt the rest of the cars would never make it."

"I hit the trestle at about 25 miles per hour and the speed of the train certainly couldn't be blamed for the crash. When I started to sway, I applied the brakes, but it apparently was too late."

Passengers and at least one railroad detective—who did not give his name—disagreed with the engineer on the speed of the train. The detective said it was going at top speed when it hit the trestle.

Test Exercise For Observation Posts In Pennsylvania Planned This Weekend

A test exercise, to include the 624 Pennsylvania observation posts, has been scheduled by the Air Force on Saturday and Sunday, February 10 and 11. During the period, on either or both days, warnings will be issued through 15 Pennsylvania key point warning centers to the respective air raid warning stations of all counties in the Commonwealth. To all practical purposes, this will be a war maneuver, but the public is not expected to take part.

Sometime during the period, a "yellow" alert will be received in those areas in the direction of theoretical attack. This alert will be clearly designated as a test.

This "yellow" signal is to be regarded as an order to alert all organized civil defense forces throughout the county.

Following the "yellow" signal, a "blue" signal will be given, which will order all-out mobilization of the civil defense forces.

The "red" alert is the imminent attack signal. In order that there may be no possible confusion, the "red" alert will be identified by the words "TEST REPEAT TEST". These words will precede any and all test warning signals. The "red" alert on sirens and other warning devices will be preceded by three short blasts, before the three minutes fluctuating signal or a series of short blasts for three minutes.

If the TEST SIGNAL IS NOT SOUNDED, the public must assume that a real attack is imminent. If a "red" alert is sounded without the preceding test signal, the public should take cover immediately, and remain until an all clear is sounded. The all clear will be a series of one minute steady blasts.

All persons should keep these facts clearly in mind in order not to be caught unprepared in the event that a real attack should be launched at the time of the test alarm.

Orders have been sent to all civil defense personnel in the county in a letter from David W. Crossett, chief warden for the county.

Skilled Fingers on a Giant Pulse

The telephone instrument itself seems so simple and familiar that most of us take telephone service pretty much for granted. But behind this familiar instrument lies a complex network of wires and cables and switchboards, all of which must undergo never-ending check-ups by testing equipment that's even more complex.

Making these regular tests is a full-time job for skilled men like

Ralph Partridge. Without their technical knowledge and specialized testing devices, your calls could never get through with today's customary speed.

It takes good people, working with good equipment, to give you good telephone service. And good telephone service is essential to the nation's need in these critical times, as well as to the daily needs of millions of people.

Visual Report On Operations Europe To Be Made Here

At 7:30 p. m. Friday in Bethel Evangelical United Brethren church, Charles Smith will present in a series of kodachrome slides a visual report on "Operations Europe."

"Operation Europe", the 1950 invasion of Europe by 100 gospel teams of American youth, was the summer project of Youth for Christ, International. Under the leadership of the president, Dr. Bok Cook, students from Christian colleges of American, with other youth leaders, joined European evangelical groups in presenting the gospel challenge in France, Italy, Belgium, Holland, Germany and the Scandinavian countries.

Charles Smith, traveling with a male quartet from Houghton College, found Sweden prepared for a revival of warm-hearted religion. Sweden's enthusiastic welcome made them forego the allure of the gigantic convention of Youth for Christ, International in Brussels the first week of August so that the rallies might continue. Responding to urgent pleas of Swedish Christians, the boys cancelled college registration for the fall semester, staying in the Scandinavian countries until December.

Accompanying Rev. Smith to Warren will be Harley "Stretch" Smith, Houghton Class of '50 and leader of the Royalaires Quartet. "Stretch" and the pianist for the quartet, Dick Meloon, will lead the song service Friday evening.

Of interest to Warren's many Swedish-American residents will be the kodachrome slides of Sweden by which the boys will illustrate their five months' preaching and singing tour of that country. Everyone is invited to this service at Bethel church, Pennsylvania avenue, east at Hertzel street, at 7:30 p. m. Friday.

Local Nurses Will Be Represented At State Institute

A three day institute for Pennsylvania nurses will be held in Lancaster on February 14, 15 and 16, in cooperation with the military and civil defense commission for Pennsylvania.

Joan Weiler, of Warren, a member of the teaching staff of the Warren State Hospital, has been selected to represent this area at the institute, and Clara Hammer was named as alternate delegate.

This training program for nurses is the first state-wide plan of instruction to be put into effect by the civil defense commission, and is being used as a pilot study in the field. At least 51 other training programs will be put into operation as soon as possible.

One of the future institutes already scheduled will be held in Erie on April 4, 5, and 6, and Miss Weiler, the local delegate, will assist in the administration of the Erie course.

The purpose of the Nurses' Institutes is to prepare Pennsylvania for participation in civil defense of the Commonwealth. The plans have been approved by the defense commission director, Col. Alton Miller, and the delegates from this area have been approved by the medical division of the Warren County Civil Defense Commission of which Dr. A. F. Yerg is the chairman.

Annual Report Of Police Department Highly Commended

Police Chief Mike Evan and the Warren Borough Police department were highly commended by Councilman George Geracimos at the February meeting of Town Council.

Speaking as a member of the police committee, Geracimos said that Chief Evan and the whole force "are to be congratulated for their final annual report" which was read in part at the meeting. Geracimos said the report indicated the borough had a low crime rate for 1950, that the cost of law enforcement was low, that the department is very satisfactory and that there is a very high morale in the department.

The police report for the month of January listed a total of 575 arrests and collection of fines totalling $494. The arrests included 546 for parking violations—mainly overstay at parking meters—and seven for drunkenness, six for ignoring traffic lights, three for reckless driving, two for through traffic stop sign violations and one each for disorderly conduct, drunken driving and aggravated assault and battery.

Parking meter collections for the past month amounted to $1581.93. The Fire Department's report for January listed 12 calls, with fire loss estimated at $310. A report also was read which showed building permits were issued in January for $10,500 worth of new construction and for alterations and repairs valued at $20,000.

Plans are going forward rapidly for the entertainment of Commander Joseph S. McCracken, Kingston, and other high department and auxiliary officials who will be in Warren for the annual Washington's birthday dinner and dance February 22d. Tickets for the dinner at the YWCA activities building in the evening, which will be restricted to 200, are in charge of a committee composed of James Senger and Tony Lucia.

Officers of Chief Complanter Post with Commander Willis Lundahl as chairman, are in charge of arrangements. The state commander and other dignitaries will be guests at a luncheon at noon to be attended jointly by members of local service clubs, including the Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions.

Those in charge are hoping to have in attendance with the commander, Harry Anderson, Ridgway, district commander, and James Hindman Franklin, 28th district service officer.

Tickets for the dinner in the evening may be had at the Legion Home, Style Shop, Kinnears and Lester Shoe Store.

DO YOU KNOW YOUR DENTISTRY?

Part of a Contribution to the Third National Children's Dental Health Day! February 5th!
CONSULTATION HEAD IN A DENTAL OFFICE

Mother: Good morning doctor, my name is Mrs. Pleasantville. I have just moved to town, and I want to consult you about my children. My husband died a number of years ago, and I have come to Warren, as my relatives have found work for me.

My older boy is nearly sixteen, my girl is eleven, and the little fellow is seven years old. I was not quite satisfied with some of the work that was done, and I would like to give you a little history of the family.

Doctor: I shall be very glad to learn the details of your experience in your former home. But we cannot condemn any work when we do not know the nature of the case, and all the trying circumstances under which it was done. Our code of ethics forbids us to do this. It would be well for you to bring in the children, where I can give you the best advice of which I am capable.

There are certain fundamental principles which underlie our work and it is sometimes difficult to follow them out, owing to the sensitiveness of the teeth of the little one, the difficulty of applying an anaesthetic, local or general, and the nature of the child. So we sometimes do what is known as a temporary expedient, cutting out a cavity just enough to get retention for a medicated cement, which oftentimes relieves the pain, and lasts quite a while, but is not supposed to be a permanent operation. This is done in order not to frighten the child, for sometimes the shock of a severe operation so imbeds itself in a child's brain that the fear of the dentist lasts for years.

Mother: I appreciate your standpoint, and it is not entirely the dentist's fault. I postponed the work as long as possible, owing to lack of funds, until the condition of the teeth was such that it was very difficult to do first class operations.

Doctor: We see these conditions almost every day. The parents pay little attention to the milder sufferings of the child, but when it comes to the point where the parents suffer for want of sleep, when Johnny cries for a night or two, they bring the little fellow in forthwith. I remember a case where a dear little girl about five years old was brought to me after she had suffered two sleepless nights and kept Grandma awake. I scolded Grandma (she never came back) and told her she should watch the little girl's teeth like a hawk, look in her mouth at least once a month, and in the meantime to teach her to brush her teeth, the upper ones down and the lower ones up. The cross-wise habit is hard to break. Grandma said she did not have time. How long do you suppose it would take Grandma to examine the little girl's teeth. Just sixty seconds. Baby teeth are so white that little pinhead cavities can be spotted in a minute. To fill these pinhead cavities is easy for the child and a pleasant task for the dentist. It is wise to bring the child about three years of age, one year after all the temporary teeth have erupted. Things can happen in a year. The fee for these small cavities would at least be no larger than the fee for extracting the tooth with an anaesthetic. And the tooth would not be lost. Parents are quite concerned about the baby cutting its teeth, after that the parent usually pays no attention for years until the child complains of discomfort. Perhaps they are looked at once a year.

Mother: The two other children never had any dental work done until their teeth were examined in school. They brought their report cards home, and that helped to tell the story. The little boy wanted to go to the dentist because some of his young friends were going.

Doctor: Also there is another side to this question of extracting the baby teeth, especially the molars. The permanent six year molars have a tendency to drift into the space formerly occupied by the baby teeth, closing up this space, leaving no room for the bicuspids which come in from eight to ten years of age, thus adding to the cause of crooked teeth. The remedy for this is to place space retainers, holding the space open for the bicuspids to erupt later on. We have not touched upon the subject of mouth breathing due sometimes to enlarged tonsils and adenoids nor to thumb sucking and lip biting and too much bubble gum and candy. But bring in the children and we will have a good look.

Later—Doctor: In spite of the fact that the two older children were examined in school, I see that the older boy has lost three first permanent molars, one of which you say was abscessed, and one was extracted to even up the jaw, although it was good, which I think was an older idea and not now practiced, and the other molar may have had an exposed pulp. He has two cavities in his upper front teeth. One is fairly large.

Mother: I did not know he had any cavities there where they do not show.

Doctor: There is a large cavity in the side of an upper molar. The few fillings he has are of good quality and for years if attended to, he need not lose any more teeth. The little girl has lost her four first permanent molars, and her second molars are coming in early, as she is now only eleven years old. They have drifted forward and are twisted in the arch, producing an imperfect bite upon these teeth. The rest of the teeth seem to be perfect. With proper treatment no more teeth need be lost for years.

I see your seven year old boy has trouble too. Two baby molars gone but tiny roots. One baby molar with a dying pulp. Three other molars badly gone but may be saved with fillings. The permanent molars are good, only one needing a moderate sized filling. So at his age these fine teeth can be saved, and if a tendency to drift is noted space retainers may be placed.

Mother: Thank you for your advice, doctor, I shall send in the children as soon as possible to prevent their suffering and save their teeth.

Doctor: In Holy Writ, you know it says, "Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not; for of such is the Kingdom of God." As I have found out, that word suffer means to permit. So we as professional men would say: Permit the little children to come unto us, and prevent their suffering, and forbid them not, for in their sweetness, of such is the Kingdom of Heaven. For "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto Me."

This is an effort of the Warren County Dental Association to impress the parents of the great importance of the value of the children's teeth, and to make of them better citizens of their country.

If anyone wishes to send in questions about dentistry, get them in this week. Address D.D.S. Warren-Times Mirror. We will try to answer them, and they will be printed in the paper. Sign no names.

LINCOLN AND GETTYSBURG

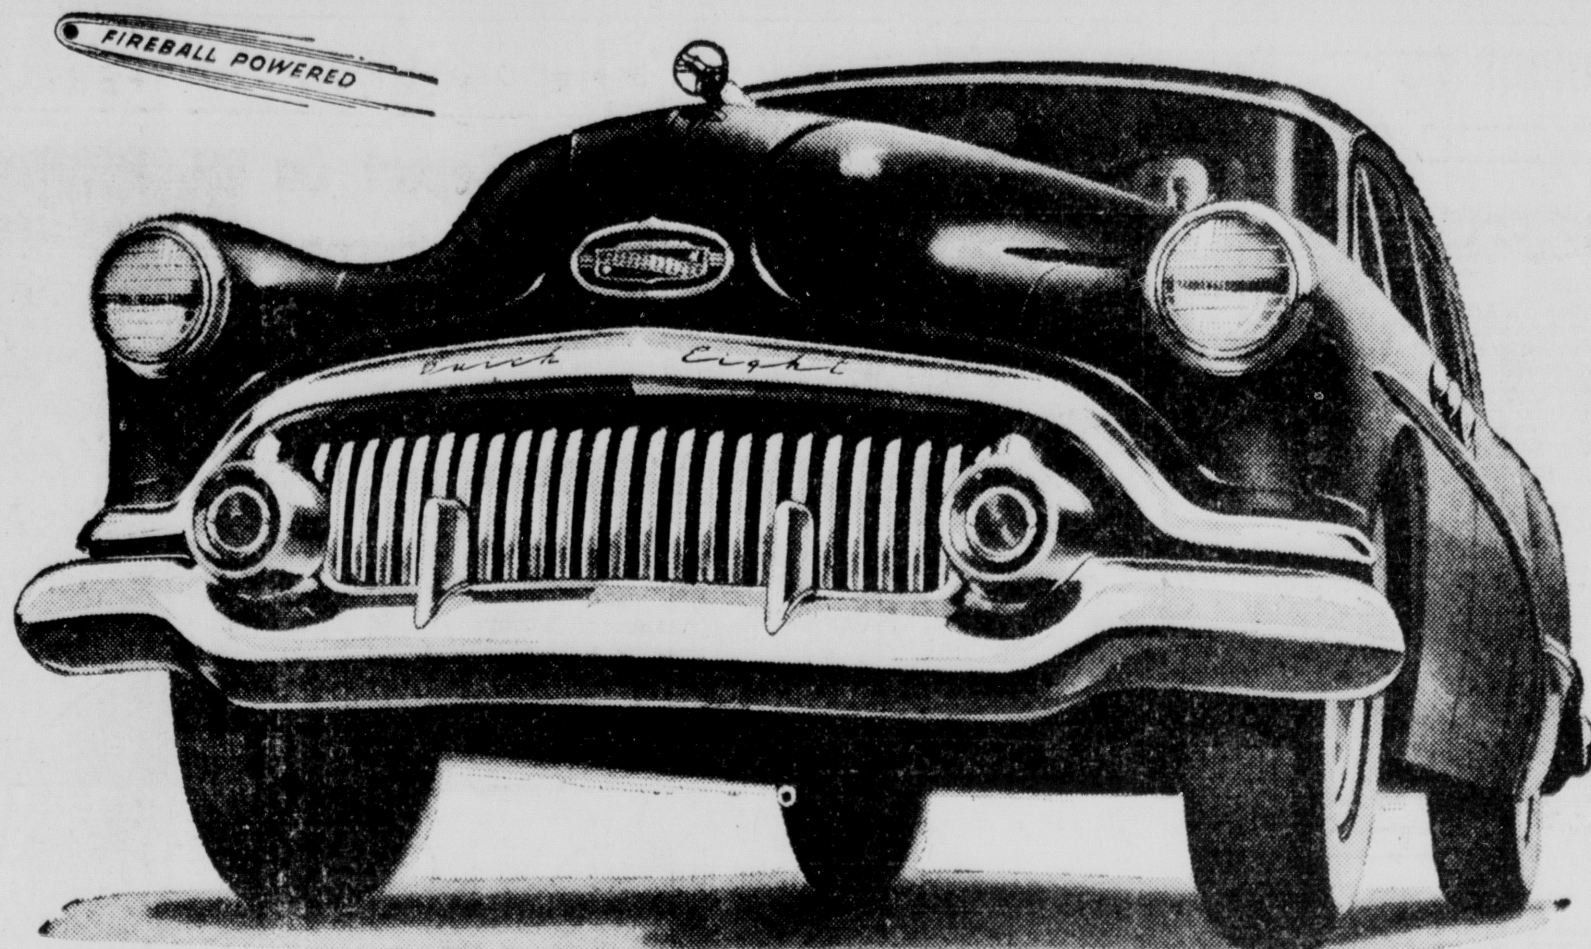

The Gettysburg Address made little impression. Accustomed to the florid oratory of the day, the listeners were confused by the simplicity of Lincoln's style. The applause at Gettysburg was mild and polite.

All but a few of the country's newspapers received the address coldly. Most of them made no comment. Others referred to it as "silly remarks" and "ignorant rudeness."

Lincoln returned to Washington convinced that his speech had been a great failure. He told a friend: "It is a flat failure and the people are disappointed."

Long-term Investment that pays daily dividends

THESE are days when thoughtful people turn their minds to the durability of things they purchase—and that makes good sense at any time.

But you may have noticed that it's a rare occasion when doing your duty turns out to be the best way to satisfy your heart's desire.

That's what's so marvelous about this '51 Buick.

If you picked a car just for the lift it gives you—your pride in its power and pace—or its generous comfort and room—you couldn't make a better choice.

But make note of this:

That gleaming new push-bar forefront, which greets your eye with flashing beauty, contains 25 grille bars made of stamped steel, individually mounted to "give" and come back unharmed. Combined with a massive, wrap-around bumper, fortified by two stalwart "bumper bombs" and two added uprights, it gives unsurpassed protection.

The springs of stout spiraled steel on all four wheels let your wheels dip and curtsy over uneven highways, while you ride level as a lance. But these springs also need no servicing, and breakage is virtually unknown.

Buick's great-powered engine is a Fireball, wondrously lively and eager at the mere touch of your toe—but it also wrings extra power from every drop of fuel, and has the mechanical perfection that comes only from years of experience with this basic design.

Dynaflow Drive gives every mile you drive effortless smoothness of control—but it also eliminates clutch repair bills, saves tires, puts less strain on the whole driving mechanism, from engine to differential.

The road-steady gait of a Buick gives you a sense of relaxed security—and is also evidence that you have a durable, deep-silled, X-braced frame beneath you.

However you check it, you'll discover this: The things that make you yearn for a Buick on first acquaintance, are the very same things that make Buick such a smart long-time buy.

Better make it a point to see your Buick dealer—soon.

Standard equipment, accessories and trim illustrated are subject to change without notice.

No other car provides all this:

DYNAFLOW DRIVE—saves strain on driver and car
FIREBALL POWER—high-compression, valve-in-head engine gets more good from every drop of fuel
PUSH-BAR FOREFRONT—combines smart style and unsurpassed protection
WHITE-GLOW INSTRUMENTS—greater clarity at night
TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE—steadies ride, improves driving control
DUAL VENTILATION—outside air fed separately to right or left of front compartment
4-WHEEL COIL SPRING—cushions ride, saves servicing costs
SELF-ENERGIZING BRAKES—hydraulic, multi-pedal pressure five times at brake drum
DREAMLINE STYLING—tapered, car-length leaders, gleaming sweepers on most models
Plus: Self-locking luggage lid, Step-On parking brake, two-way ignition lock, Safety-Ride rims, Hi-Foiled engine mounting, Body by Fisher

FACTS OF LIFE ON CAPITOL HILL

In asking now for only part of the $16,500,000,000 in new taxes he wants, President Truman seems to be accepting the hard facts of life on Capitol Hill. Congressional tax leaders have made it clear that $8 billion to $10 billion is the most the president is likely to get in the months ahead. Mr. Truman's tax message settled on the latter figure.

He hasn't abandoned his overall goal, however, and plans to request more taxes later. Possibly he is counting on the painful logic of appropriations for defense to convince the lawmakers they must do still more.

Congress may drag its feet for many weeks on a new tax bill, but ultimately it will undoubtedly approve a measure close to the president's figure. The alternative is too grim even for a politician to contemplate. For taxation is acknowledged on all sides to be one of the chief brakes on inflation. Without it, controls and other weapons are not believed likely to work effectively.

That point is unquestionably more persuasive with the lawmakers than the argument of a balanced budget.

It is because Mr. Truman himself is now urging a balanced budget that he will be back later to seek another $6,500,000,000. When he presents that case, he'll find his audience much tougher. For the trend of congressional thinking is that $10 billion is a big enough bite to discourage heavy individual and corporate spending. A bigger one, the feeling is, would probably act too strongly as a damper on business enterprise and initiative.

Further tax demands will be a test of the president's financial wizardry, since further hikes in personal and corporate levies beyond his current proposals have so dim a prospect. Unless he can devise some ingenious new taxation methods, what he is asking now is perhaps all he will get.

VOLUNTEER DONORS NEEDED

The Red Cross Bloodmobile returned to Warren today for the February collection. While the exact number of pints collected is not known at the present time, a complete report will appear in the Times-Mirror tomorrow evening. It was hoped that the full quota of 150 pints would be donated during today's schedule.

Red Cross officials stress the crucial need for blood both here at home and in Korea. Men and women who called at Red Cross headquarters today to help humanity, deserve the thanks of the entire community.

New volunteers are urged to contact anyone connected with the Warren County Red Cross Blood program for complete details. The Bloodmobile will operate in Sheffield on Wednesday, March 7.

LENTEN SERMONETTE

THE REV. SPRIGG HARWOOD, Clarendon Methodist Church

A TIME FOR SERVICE AND SACRIFICE

Matthew 16:24—"If any man will come after me, let him deny himself..."

THE LENTEN SEASON is a time when many people think of denying themselves some of the things that give them the most pleasure. This is not a bad practice if it leads to growth of character, but simply to refuse candy, cigarettes, or some trifle just to fulfill a custom has little efficacy. Lent should be a time when we develop and deepen our spiritual experience. It should bring us to a new appreciation of the last days of Jesus and what he endured for our redemption.

Lent is a time of denial, but it should be the denial of those things that lessen our spiritual attainments; a denial of the false, impure, and unholy. However, it should be more than simply denial; it should be a time of sacrifice. Sacrifice does not mean simply to get rid of things, or to give them up. The word comes from the Latin and originally meant "to make holy." It was not a negative act, but a positive process in which ordinary things were given spiritual significance and no longer claimed as one's own.

The best way to attain sacrifice is through service. The hermit in the hills, who denies himself everything, even contact with his fellow men, cannot make a sacrifice, for he has nothing to sacrifice and no one to serve. But we have the opportunity for both: we can sacrifice some of that which we have, be it time, talent, or things, by making it holy through service to others. Jesus said that a cup of cold water given in His name was a service to Him. He also said that it was not the size of our gifts that determines their importance, but the extent to which they come out of our love and manifest the spirit of sacrifice. As His followers, we should try to put these ideals into practice during this lenten season.

Eisenhower's Report, Minus Verbiage

Here And There

An "Old Timers Night" staged by the Warren Lodge of Elks February 17, 1931, was recalled during the festivities incident to the annual Past Exalted Rulers' program last evening. The entertainment furnished by old time members in February, 20 years ago, was declared by all present to have been the most enjoyable since its organization March 30, 1892. George C. Sarvis was exalted ruler at the time and the committee in charge was Alfred Schellhammer, Aaron Printz, Marshall Marshall, Jerry Lyons and Earl MacDonald. Mr. Schellhammer acted as exalted ruler for the session, and one of the highlights was the promiscuous firing of members for alleged violations of "lodge etiquette," the money collected by John Berdine, being applied to the charity fund. During the program Earl MacDonald, father of Jack MacDonald, present brief history of the lodge, gave a brief history during which he read portions of the minutes of the first two meetings, when the late Attorney Joseph A. Schofield was secretary. A review of the various buildings occupied by the order proved most interesting, a portion of which follows: "There has been considerable discussion as to where the old Williams building was at the corner of Water and Bridge streets, rented by the lodge June 20, 1892. This was a suite of five rooms owned by G. B. Williams and rented for $275 a year, including water, heat, and janitor service with a stipulation that the rooms be swept twice each week. The Williams building was known as the Old Moran House, which is now owned by the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Later the third floor of the Kirberger block, next door, was rented. At the time the Williams building was occupied the initiations were held in a Lodge room over what was then the Citizens National Bank building. In 1903 the lodge moved to the Crandall block in Hickory street, now occupied by the Warren Lodge of Moose, where they remained until the present home at the corner of Hickory street and Fourth avenue was completed in 1914. W. V. Geer was exalted ruler at the time the lodge moved from the Kirberger building to the Crandall block, and T. J. McNamara was exalted ruler at the time the present home was occupied."

This 'N That: Rep. Daniel A. Reed, of Dunkirk, has introduced into the house of representatives a bill similar to those which have been in the hopper for years, that would give all veterans of the Mexican Border incident between May 9, 1916 and April 6, 1917, the same privileges, rights and benefits granted to military and naval personnel during World War I. Over in Corry it is said the barbers were preparing to increase the price of haircuts when the Office of Price Stabilization ruled that tonsorial artists must hold the line unless they had new prices in effect before a week ago last Thursday when the "big frost" occurred. After today it will be necessary to have a permit from a field supervisor or district game protector to retain any of that deer meat held over since last fall. . . . Lemuel B. Schofield, Philadelphia, remembered by older citizens as a former resident of Warren, has been appointed by Governor John S. Fine as a member of the Valley Forge Park Commission. . . . Another selection of interest here is that of Joseph Putnam Willson, Smethport, as a member of the

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Largest Anti-Moscow Forces Are Not in the Atlantic Pact

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Now that General Dwight D. Eisenhower has returned from the first inspection of his new command, the hard work really begins. This is the task of carrying his recommendations into effect.

An examination of the North Atlantic Treaty organization reveals easily its strengths and its weaknesses. It sounds good—12 nations united for common defense. But when you start checking the assets and liabilities, the soundness of the institution is open to some question. The United States and Canada are 3000 miles away. The United States is budgeted to spend about $4 billion on European arms aid in the present fiscal year. This is out of total arms aid appropriations of $6.5 billion. For next year, another $7 billion is budgeted for all foreign military and economic assistance. Canada has budgeted $300 million for foreign military aid this year. The combined Canadian-American contribution is roughly 70 per cent of the $6.25 billion which the other 10 Atlantic Pact powers are spending for their own defense this year. For next year, the American contribution will equal the western European outlay.

This is not true, however, in terms of manpower for the western European defense forces. U. S. forces by the middle of 1951 are expected to number some 2,700,000 men. If as many as six U. S. divisions are sent to Europe this year—there are two in Germany now—the force will total something over 100,000 men.

This 100,000 men would be equal to about five per cent of the more than 2,000,000 men which the European North Atlantic Pact countries will have under arms this year.

British and French are of course making the greatest contribution. Both governments have recently stepped up their military budgets. Britain will spend $3 billion on defense this year, $4 billion next year. France is budgeted at $2 billion for this year. This British-French outlay of $5 billion for this year is 80 per cent of the $6.25 billion budgeted for defense by the 10 European North Atlantic Treaty countries.

In manpower, Britain is putting 1,000,000 men in uniform, France 800,000. France now has five full divisions, will have 10 by the end of the year, 20 by 1953, says Premier Rene Pleven. Armed forces of the other eight European countries in NATO—the North Atlantic Treaty Organization—are relatively small because the countries are small. Their total military budget is $1.25 billion, their total armed forces 600,000 men.

WHAT this summary indicates is that, aside from the British and French, the strongest forces in the anti-Moscow countries of Europe are not in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. They are in three categories. First are the neutrals, Sweden and Switzerland. Second are the particular enemies of Soviet Russia—Spain and Yugoslavia. Third are the Middle Eastern countries of Greece, Turkey and Iran.

If all of them were in NATO, it would increase the anti-Communist military potential by over 2,500,000 men and military budgets for this year totaling $3.5 billion. This is the line-up:

| Country | Military Budget for 1951 in Dollars | Reserves and Armed Forces |
|-------------|-------------------------------------|---------------------------|
| Sweden | $230,000,000 | 700,000 |
| Switzerland | 75,000,000 | 500,000 |
| Spain | 275,000,000 | 425,000 |
| Yugoslavia | 380,000,000 | 390,000 |
| Greece | 304,000,000 | 200,000 |
| Turkey | 178,000,000 | 350,000 |
| Iran | 100,000,000 | 150,000 |

Frances Ann Carlson and L. P. Reilley Wed February 1st In State College

A simple ceremony performed February 1st in the rectory of Our Lady of Victory church in State College united in marriage two popular young employees of the Ordnance Research Laboratory, Frances Ann Carlson, 228 West College avenue, and Lawrence P. Reilley, University Club.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave A. Carlson, 808 Conewango avenue, Warren, and Mr. Reilley is the son of Mrs. Marion Reilley, Shamokin.

Father Owen M. Gallagher performed the ceremony at 1:30 p. m., with Eleanor Tobias, of Woodrich, and Leon Knobel, Jr., of Shamokin, as attendants.

The bride selected a light blue faille suit-dress with matching hat, navy accessories, and a white orchid corsage, while Miss Tobias wore light blue accessories and white French carnations with navy blue faille.

Mrs. Carlson chose a navy sheer wool, with matching accessories and white French carnations, and Mrs. Reilley was in wine crepe with black accessories and a violet corsage centered with roses. A bridal luncheon followed immediately in the Allencrest Tea Room, with miniature figures topping the wedding cake and flowers in pastel shades.

The newlyweds will return February 8 from a wedding trip to Philadelphia and New York City and will live in State College. For travel, the bride chose a knitted suit of light blue wool and brown accessories.

The bride was graduated from Warren High School in 1944 and attended Grove City College. Mr. Reilley, graduate of Shamokin High the same year, attended Williamsport Technical Institute.

Honoring the bride-elect with parties were Mrs. D. E. Murray, North Warren, and girls at 228 West College avenue.

Friends Will Parrot Wife's Verbal Picture of Husband

IN asking for a divorce a California husband testified that it was bad enough to have his wife call him "you fool"—but when the parrot picked it up, even using the same inflection his wife used, that was too much.

Like the parrot, a couple's friends get in the habit of taking a wife's estimate of her husband at face value.

If she runs him down continually, she in time sells them on the idea that he hasn't good business judgment, or is inconsiderate, or is a dull fool—or whatever point she is trying to prove.

If she bosses him around, they take it for granted that he isn't much of a man.

If she is always talking poor, they accept him as a failure.

If the parrot who entered a divorce case had heard the man of the house referred to as "You Darling" instead of as "You Fool" it would have been a different story.

IT WORKS BOTH WAYS

AND so it is when a couple's friends get the impression that the wife thinks the husband is something extra special.

If she brings out his good points instead of harping on his faults, they see him through her eyes. When you decide that one of your friends has a mighty fine husband, you can be pretty sure that you are just reflecting her attitude toward him.

So remember that, when you're tempted to belittle your husband or find fault with him in front of others.

Your friends are going to see him through your eyes. They'll accept your opinion of him almost as readily as the parrot who echoed the wife's "You Fool."

FOR MRS. ABBOTT

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Youngberg, Warren, entertained at their new home on the Lander road with a surprise party which honored the birthday anniversary of their mother, Mrs. J. E. Abbott.

A social time was enjoyed and refreshments were served from a table appointed in pink and green. Among the many nice gifts presented the honored one were four decorated birthday cakes.

Guests included three sisters and a brother of the honored guest: Mrs. Ed Finlan of Youngsville, Mrs. Archie Richardson, Mrs. Gregg Abbott and John Moore, all of Sugar Grove; also her son, Warren Abbott, and his wife of Williamsport; her other children, Mr. and Mrs. Charles White, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Abbott and daughter, Beverly, with these others: Mr. and Mrs. Herman Youngberg, Mr. Abbott and Mr. Finlan.

WCSJ MEETING

There was a good attendance for the monthly meeting of Grace church WCSJ. The president, Mrs. LeRoy Hammerbeck, conducted the session and Miss Ethel Kittner led the devotions. Following the business meeting, Mrs. Lewis Garber introduced Miss Pearl Lund, guest speaker.

Miss Lund spoke to the group on "Glimpses of Present Day Korea". Since she was formerly a missionary to Korea, she has kept in touch with many of her friends there and read excerpts from several letters which she has received recently. Despite the tragedies of war and the loss of homes and loved ones, she stated, Christian Koreans still hope to reestablish their country and once more live in peace and security. At the end of her most interesting talk, a social hour was enjoyed.

DAR Chapter Has Anniversary Party

Mrs. W. G. Cable (center), regent of General Joseph Warren Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, presided over the birthday dinner given at the YWCA activities building last evening to celebrate the 40th anniversary of the chapter's founding. With her are Mrs. C. O. Gay (left), assistant treasurer, and Mrs. A. F. Dunham, secretary, who have been elected chapter delegates to the DAR continental congress in Washington in April. Pictured with the ladies, in the back row, are J. R. Reddick (left), high school faculty member, and Gerald Newton, director of curriculum, who presented a group of high school pupils in the evening's program.

Organized on February 22, 1911, with a charter membership of 73 women, General Joseph Warren Chapter, DAR, held a delightful dinner party Tuesday night at the YWCA to mark the 40th anniversary of its founding.

Members and guests were seated at a long table set simply with a low silver bowl of red carnations, white mums and blue iris. Tall silver candelabra held matching colors.

With Mrs. Warren R. Carlin at the piano, the group sang one stanza of The Star Spangled Banner to precede the invocation given by the chaplain, Mrs. T. H. Russell. A bit later, Mrs. Carlin was presented by Mrs. W. G. Cable, regent, as the only one of eight of the chapter's past regents in attendance. Included in her welcoming remarks, Mrs. Cable thanked the hostess committee for its party arrangements.

The meeting was then turned over to Gerald Newton, curriculum director in Warren borough schools, who, in turn presented J. R. Reddick, history teacher at the high school, and his group of five students.

With Bob Cowden as chairman, John Mangus, Richard Reddick, Marilyn Smith and Ann Rydholm gave an informal demonstration of history teaching under the Democratic Action Centered plan.

After examining how the work is divided up among class committees, their sources of material and how reference material is preserved, the students summed up individual benefits derived from this type of instruction. Responsibility and freedom of expression are developed in the classroom presentations and these requisites are carried on into adult life by the individual. Concluding, the group asked for questions from the audience and Mr. Reddick extended a welcome to anyone interested in visiting his classes.

In a brief business session which preceded the birthday dinner, Mrs.

Cable presided and Mrs. Russell, chaplain, read an appropriate George Washington Prayer. Mrs. Gay and Mrs. Dunham were chosen to represent the chapter at the national gathering in the spring, with Miss Florence Shawkey, Mrs. W. C. Fuellhart, Miss Ethel DeForest and Mrs. Beecher M. Rutledge as the alternates.

It was reported, also, that chapter members have packed four boxes of used clothing, valued at $144, for shipment to the Kate Duncan Smith and Tammassee schools sponsored by the national society in the south.

Usual epidemic of winter colds continues to hamper the work of the Red Cross Bloodmobile unit visiting towns in the area this week; everywhere the report is that donor lists have been greatly curtailed because of minor illnesses.

Among the 325 in attendance at the annual past exalted rulers' night festivities of the Warren lodge of Elks last evening were visitors from Sitka, Alaska, Florida, West Virginia, New York, and many lodges in Pennsylvania, including Kane, Johnsonburg, Ridgeway and Titusville. An interesting phenomenon will be visible in the sky this evening when planets will edge to each other and toward the moon; they will be joined by a thin silvery crescent of the new moon; it will be visible in the western sky after sunset when Venus, Mars and Saturn will be grouped. . . . Youngsville Boro Council Adopts Budget For 1951

Youngsville borough council, in session Monday evening, adopted its 1951 budget and set the tax rate for the borough at 21½ mills and $5 per capita, the same as 1950.

Provided for general government in the 1951 budget is $30,528.65. The water account draws a budget of $16,757 which is expected to include a new four inch line on North Main street from Eighth street to the boro line, and the installation of a new fire hydrant along this line. The sewer account budget calls for $5,000.

Bills in the sum of $3,207.02 were approved for payment. The fire committee reported that the new fire alarm system for boro buildings has been installed and is nearly ready for use. The system is designed to blow the fire alarm when the temperature reaches a certain point, and the alarm number 3-4-3 has been assigned to city buildings.

Councilmen Dale and Sanford were appointed as council representatives to the Youngsville Fair board of directors.

The police report for January cites 13 doors of business places found open during night patrols, and Chief of Police Ed Chappel urges more caution in this respect. Other features of the police report list 8 motor violations; one robbery; four street lights out; six gasoline pumps found unlocked; $294.74 in parking meter collections; 42 parking tickets issued, and fines of $47 collected. It was reported that the city parking meters are now entirely owned by the boro, the payments having been completed during the past month.

A general discussion of 1951 plans concluded the meeting which was adjourned shortly after 11 p. m.

Director Of Draft Favors Training For All Pro Athletes

Washington, Feb. 7.—(P)—The nation's draft director said yesterday that professional athletes—and any other man with "two eyes, two arms and two legs"—should go through basic training before being excused from military service.

Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey was testifying before the house armed services committee. He said he favors putting athletes through basic training to decide whether they would be physically qualified for at least "limited service."

The house committee has been conducting public hearings on a request from the department of defense for a universal military service and training (UMST) law which would drop the draft age from 19 to 18, extend draft service from 21 to 27 months and set up a long range training program. It goes into closed session today to try to iron out differences among committeemen on the bill.

Secretary of defense Marshall and his aides have told the committee 18-year-olds must be drafted if the nation is to reach its military manpower goal of 3,500,000 without drafting family men, veterans or men 25 years or older.

Armed services committeemen in both house and the senate have demonstrated considerable reluctance to draft boys of 18 if any other way can be found to fill out the services.

ELK P.E.R.'S: Following are the past exalted rulers that had charge of the annual meeting of Warren Lodge No. 223 last evening with over 250 members in attendance: Front row (left to right) Dr. D. A. Smith (celebrating his 83rd birthday); Jack Culbertson; Delbert Lewis, exalted ruler; H. J. Harvey; back row—R. L. Ruhlman; W. J. McIntyre; Ruel Smith; Claude Schindler and C. T. Berdine. (Times-Mirror photo.)

A club dinner and program sponsored by the Past Exalted Rulers' Association of the Warren Lodge of Elks attracted a crowd of over 300 to the commodious club house Tuesday evening.

A delicious ham dinner prepared by the Lewis Caterers and served by the house committee under the direction of Myron Check, was enjoyed by a capacity crowd at 6:30 o'clock. Invocation was delivered by Dr. D. A. Smith, a past exalted ruler, who was serenaded later when it was announced by Delbert Lewis, master of ceremonies, that the veteran dentist was observing his 83rd birthday anniversary. Music for the evening was provided by Merle Jordan's orchestra.

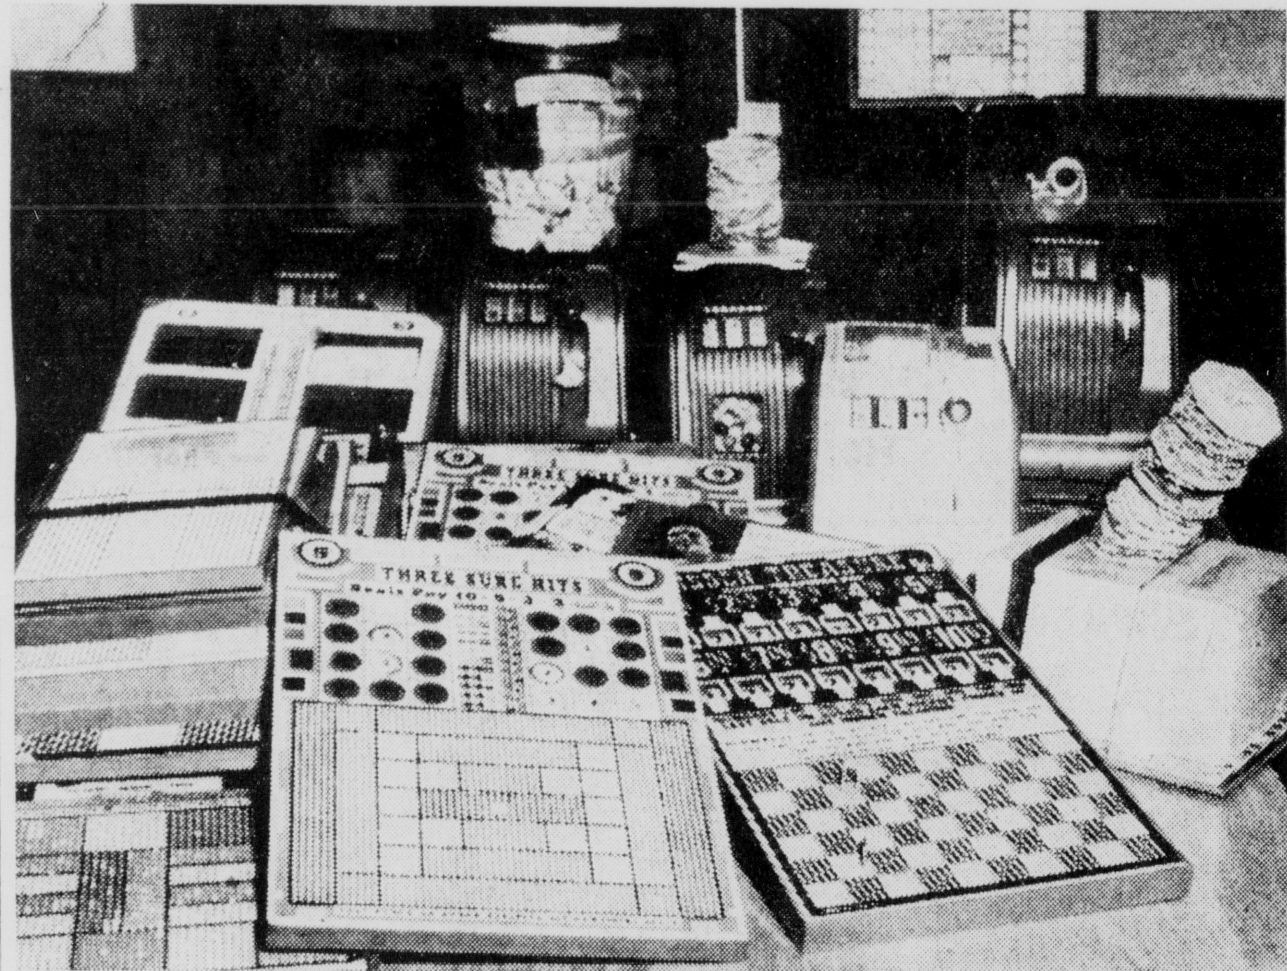

Past exalted rulers who filled the offices for the brief business session that followed the dinner were: D. L. Lewis, exalted ruler; H. J. Harvey, leading knight; C. T. Berdine, loyal knight; Ronald Fredericks, lecturing knight; Jack Culbertson, esquire; Dr. Smith, chaplain; W. J. McIntyre, tiler; Ruel Smith, inner guard; H. J. Christensen, organist; Ross L. Ruhlman, secretary; Claude Schindler, treasurer; A. A. Albaugh, trustee.

Other past exalted rulers in attendance were: Frank Chaffee, Erie; W. V. Geer and P. M. Printz, Jamestown, N. Y.; H. D. Baker, E. C. Lynch, A. C. Kirberger, Jr., Ed Lowrey, and George C. Sarvis, who as usual, was chairman of the entertainment committee.

After the dinner the house committee cleared the large auditorium and during the later hours of the evening a most entertaining floor show was staged, before the crowd that taxed the capacity of the hall.

During the business session a suggestion was proposed as coming from the past exalted rulers that plans be launched for an "Old Timers" night, similar to one that was staged twenty years ago this month. In keeping with the usual procedure no other important business was considered.

A large number of visitors were introduced from lodges in Sitka, Alaska, Florida, New York, and many in Pennsylvania. A. M. Peterson was introduced as a past exalted ruler of the Kane Lodge.

The places raided were in Clarendon, Pittsfield, North Warren, Russell, Sugar Grove, Sheffield, Watson township, and on Route 6 near Youngsville. (Phil Coyle Photo.)

Toll Road Through Area Is Proposed

Harrisburg, Feb. 6.—(P)—A new extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike creating a rectangular shape for the tollroad was proposed in the state senate today.

The highway, as suggested by four northwestern Pennsylvania Republicans, would link proposed extensions to run from the present east-west turnpike to Scranton and Erie.

"A northern Turnpike extension would have far-reaching effects in the progress and development of the entire northwestern part of Pennsylvania," said Sen. C. Arthur Blass (R-Erie).

Sponsors of the bill along with Blass are Sens. LeRoy E. Chapman (R-Warren), James S. Berger (R-Potter) and Guy B. Robinson (R-Susquehanna).

The present Turnpike runs some 260 miles from Irwin, near Pittsburgh, to King of Prussia, near Philadelphia. A 67-mile extension to the Ohio border near Petersburg, O., is now under construction.

The 1949 general assembly authorized construction of one extension northward to Scranton in the eastern part of the state and another to Erie in the west.

Federal and State Inquiries Are Ordered

The Pennsylvania, in a statement, said a 25 mile an hour speed limit was in effect on the new track, opened to traffic less than five hours before "The Broker" cracked up at 5:43 p. m.

The new track was swung about 50 feet from the old one to clear the way for the Jersey Turnpike, big cross-state highway now under construction.

The Pennsylvania said six trains passed over the new trestle safely before "The Broker".

The railroad said the trestle itself was not a factor in the accident—despite the engineer's statement.

Ambulances hurried to the scene from all over North Jersey. Blood plasma was sent from New York and Jersey City.

A morgue was set up in a garage. Blood-splattered rescue workers tenderly placed the dead in long rows, then pulled brown sheets of paper over their still forms. The feet of the dead sprawled limp and lifeless, uncovered by the paper shrouds.

meeting of the big four foreign ministers.

Acheson said that he thought Russia had moved somewhat grudgingly toward such a meeting in the latest Soviet note to the western powers.

At the same time, he described as usual Communist propaganda technique—charging other people with what they do themselves—Russia's claim that the western nations are bringing aggressive militarist elements in Germany back into power.

At the news conference, Acheson also:

1. Confirmed that the United States is negotiating for the right to use various military bases in North Africa and the middle east. He would not give any details as to number or location.

2. Declared the subject of a Pacific Pact is one which naturally comes up in connection with a Japanese peace treaty.

Moscow, Feb. 7.—(P)—New Russian notes on a proposed big four meeting reiterate that German rearmament is the chief threat to peace, but they leave the door open for talks on other world problems—in the council for foreign ministers as set up by the Potsdam agreement.

(In Washington officials interpreted the call for a "council" meeting as meaning Russia would exclude discussion of far eastern questions unless Communist China was represented, since Potsdam included China on the council for such discussions.)

NIGHTMARISH NIGHT SCENE—This dramatic scene of the Woodbridge, N. J., commuter train crash which killed and injured scores of passengers pictures rescuers on fire ladders, ambulances and curious onlookers highlighted in the glare of searchlights as police, firemen and volunteers carry on the grim removal of dead and wounded.

TELESCOPED TRAGEDY—Rescue workers, climbing through broken windows and slashed open sides of coaches of "The Broker," a Pennsylvania commuter train carrying 300 rush-hour passengers, attempt to extricate injured from wreckage. Train plunged off 26-foot embankment when trestle gave way 1000 feet south of Woodbridge, N. J. station, killing and injuring scores of passengers.

IT'S WHAT WE'VE BEEN SAYING ALL ALONG—You don't hear "Git a horse!" as often these days as you used to. Motorists have just about written off ol' Dobbin as a means of locomotion. But let seven inches of snow bog down those new-fangled machines, like it did in Memphis, Tenn., and right away somebody goes and gets a horse. That's what this smart pie peddler did when his gas buggy wouldn't go.

BEATY CAGERS LOSE TO KANE FRESHMEN

Beaty Freshman basketballers dropped at 31-23 decision to the Kane yearlings in a game played yesterday at Beaty gym. In a second game, Beaty Eighth graders whipped the Warren Junior Hi-Y, 33 to 21.

Carlson led the Kane team with eight points, while Gordon, Griffin and Dick each counted four points for the Beaty Frosh. The squad is under the supervision of Coach Harry Hutchings.

Schafer paced the Beaty 8th Graders with eight points.

Louis Favored To Take Cuban Tonight

Miami, Fla., Feb. 7.—(AP)—Joe Louis, as trim-looking as the fearsome Brown Bomber of a decade ago, is favored to knock out Omelio Agramonte of Cuba in an early round tonight and move a step closer to a return title match with Ezzard Charles.

It is even money here the 36-year-old former world heavyweight champion will stop the 190-pound Cuban in four rounds or less in their scheduled ten-round fight at Miami Stadium. The bout will not be broadcast or televised.

An attendance of 15,000 and gross gate of $50,000 was forecast by the promoters. Joe expects to enter the ring tonight weighing 207 or 208 pounds. That's just what he weighed for the second fight with Billy Conn in 1946 and Joe says he's in the best shape since that time.

Could he beat Charles now? "Well," Joe replied, "I'll just say this much: Ezzard would have to be a better fighter than the first time I met him if he beat me now."

Sugar Grove Wins Over Bloomfield

Sugar Grove basketballers topped Bloomfield high school 44 to 37, in a scrap played last night at Sugar Grove.

Chuck Smith and Gail Frank set the victory pace for Sugar Grove with 20 and 13 point totals, respectively. Foltz and Wise each counted nine points for the visitors.

The running score was knotted, 31-31, at the end of three periods, and again at the 37-37 mark with three minutes left to play. Sugar Grove, however, turned on the steam and pulled away to victory.

Sportsmen's Club At Ludlow Fences In Game Preserve

Ludlow, Feb. 7.—George Anderson, president of the Sportsmen's Club, announces the game reserve sponsored by this club has been entirely fenced. Two and one-half acres of ground have been plowed and are ready for spring planting of buckwheat and oats. Nine feeders are in operation and have already attracted turkeys. Forty-five bushels of corn has been put out for deer. The Forestry Department is going to plant 100 Chinese chestnut trees with the help of this organization.

Moriah Ladies Aid sponsored a successful bake sale at the close of the regular meeting, with a commite composed of Mrs. Lawrence Larson, Mrs. Emil Nelson, Mrs. Wm. Ralston, and Mrs. Axel K. Anderson. The meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Lawrence Larson, with the meditation given by the Pastor Hans Pearson. The following appeared on the program: Mrs. Benjamin Connelly, vocal solo; Mrs. Evert Johnson, reading; and little Everett Larson, two piano solos.

Swanson, with Scripture reading and prayer by Mrs. Gustav Olson. An article concerning India was given by Miss Edith Larson. Coffee was served in the late evening.

Mrs. Belle McArthur, Kane, has arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester McArthur to spend some time. Mr. and Mrs. McArthur visited in Townsville over the weekend.

Chapter 30

MOLLY was alone in one of the smaller writing rooms when he found her. She had just finished a letter to Bert, asking to be released from their engagement. A deck steward had already taken it to Bert, who was probably reading it right now.

It had not been an easy letter to write and her nerves were still on edge. In the first place, she had not wanted to do the breaking-off this way. It seemed like a breach of good sportsmanship, if not actual cowardice.

She had wanted to tell Bert face to face, in a heart-to-heart talk. But Bert, either miffed by her neglect or completely absorbed in Marcia Collings, had chosen to make himself unavailable. All of her efforts to see him privately had failed. He had not put in his appearance either at lunch or at dinner.

"I think he's in one of the private dining rooms with Miss Collings, who fancies herself another Garbo," the countess had told Molly. Then she had patted Molly's arm in a commiserating gesture, adding:

"I hope you don't mind my saying so, my dear, but you're going to lose your young man if you don't show him more attention. Men are like that. Of course you've been doing a wonderful work, but you must remember that Mr. Hasbrook is quite an eligible young man."

Mark Norwood had broken in at this point. "Could be Miss Leonard would be doing herself a favor if she lost him," he had announced shortly, without looking up from his plate. "Money isn't necessarily the measure of eligibility."

Once during the afternoon Molly had seen Bert. He was walking along the deck with Marcia Collings, obviously bound for a game of tennis. Molly was sure he had seen her too, for he suddenly caught Marcia's arm in an extravagantly possessive gesture, much in the manner of a defiant child showing off.

Molly looked up when Peter home after having been a medical patient for eight days at Kane Community Hospital.

Mrs. L. B. Connelly, Mrs. George Anderson, Mrs. Albert Carlson, and Mrs. Emil Nelson attended the regular Kane Community Hospital Auxiliary meeting Tuesday afternoon, when Mrs. Connelly was elected first vice-president.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bloomquist and sons were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nelson.

wanted to see her again? I know you're engaged to her twin brother, but don't you think that's carrying the family tie a little too far?

"But you're wrong!" Molly wrung her hands in distress. "I had a foolish notion I must prove to Pat that I wasn't trying to well, cut in on her romance." As if that weren't enough, she heard herself saying, to her further humiliation:

"She thought I was chasing you, trying to compete with her, though she knew very well I was engaged to Bert. I wanted to show her she was wrong . . ."

The words came in short, hurried gasps and Peter, suddenly aware of her agitation, smiled reassuringly. "Oh, it was nothing," he said. "I was just wondering how you happened to get into the act. The whole thing is funny—the way I let myself in for Patricia's little cat-and-mouse games in the first place. Strange how a fellow loses his sense of humor when he knows he's been making a fool of himself." He added and for no reason other than to put Molly at ease, began to laugh.

The effect on Molly was spontaneous and Peter's face sobered instantly. Molly got up, her eyes flashing fire.

"I suppose Pat told you the whole story—about what brought it on, I mean," she exploded. "About how . . ." She caught herself just in time. She had almost said, "About how I've fallen in love with you, when you don't even see me at all." She added miserably:

"Allright then So I made a fool of myself too. But if you came here to laugh at me . . ."

Peter was on his feet instantly. "I don't know what you're talking about," he said. "Pat told me nothing. This time I told her." He moved closer to Molly, tried to take her hand, but she pulled away from him, so he let his hands fall to his sides.

"I didn't come here to laugh at you," he said. "You should know that. I was laughing at myself—and the four-square fool I've been."

Annual Banquet Planned By Scouts At Ludlow Monday

Ludlow, Feb. 7 — Scouts and their dads are reminded the annual banquet will be held Monday evening, February 12, in the American Legion Hall. The Ludlow Boy Scout finance campaign is under way, also, and will continue until that date, with final reports to be made at the dinner.

James Uber Post, American Legion, held its regular meeting in the Legion Hall, with a fine attendance. The meeting was conducted by Commander Stanley Carlson. During the business session, it was decided to contribute $10.00 to the Boy Scout finance campaign. It was also decided that this organization will sponsor the local drive of the American Heart Association. They ask the cooperation of the community in this drive and have placed "Hearts" in various local places awaiting the contributions which this town always supplies.

Mrs. Vernon Swanson and Mrs. M. I. Jones were hostesses to the Girl Scout Neighborhood Committee at the Swanson home Monday evening, with a fair attendance. Mrs. Lester McArthur conducted the business session, at which a Brownie committee was selected. Refreshments were served to conclude the evening.

Kenneth Larson was honored guest at a party given by his mother, Mrs. Lawrence Larson, at the family home in celebration of his 9th birthday. Games were enjoyed, after which a birthday supper was served. His little guests included Ronald Johnson, Richard Carlson, Dan and Cathleen Troutman, Carol and Patsy Ralston, Johnny Cox, and Everett Larson.

A Luther League Fellowship Service was observed during the regular worship period at Moriah Lutheran church, with Tillie Olson, counselor, Patty Erickson and Wayne Gregg, members, participating. Pastor Hans Pearson announced next Sunday is Boy Scout Sunday with everyone invited. Announcement was also made of the World Day of Prayer service to be held in Tabor church at Kane at 2:30 p. m. Friday, with several Moriah women on the program and all Ludlow women invited. Acknowledgement was made of a gift to the church of $150 from Mrs. George Olmsted.
